Message from President David

Dear Fellow Rotarians,

Have you ever considered the Power of Words? Someone once said that "the tongue is mightier than the sword" and, in this age of the internet and all modern technology, this still seems to be true. This coming week a number of us will be attending the District Conference listening to the power of words, and then returning to share the messages with our fellow club members..more words... How many conferences and seminars have you attended in your business life, your Rotary life or indeed your social life? Much of what we gain from any gathering depends on the attitude we take with us when we attend. Is this just another conference, another seminar, another meeting?

I attended the Positive Health/Well Being seminar last Thursday night arranged by the men's shed. It was a small crowd but provoked a great deal of interest. More words of course, but I was not disappointed. I went along wanting to learn more about men's health and depression and the speakers answered many of my questions. Thank you Jeff for organising the event. I am glad that our club was able to help in a small way. This event followed on from our meeting last Tuesday when our guest speaker talked to us about the work of Australian Rotary Health.

In the latest issue of Rotary Down Under there is an article headed "Eight member club runs giant events". As our club decides the future of large projects such as the Festival of Wheels and our recent Gnome and Fairy Festival, I commend the article to you. The writer concludes "We're doing all we can to recruit new members, but people are more willing to help than to join."

Tonight we are privileged to learn more of the great Australian Weary Dunlop. A man who served humanity.

Yours in Rotary

David

- The 2017 District 9810 Conference is being held at Geelong from Friday 31 March to Sunday 2 April.
- The recent board meeting adopted the new membership application form proposed by District to cover current legislation and needs.
- The board also decided that there would be no club meeting at Woodlands on 18 April. Members are invited to attend the RC Hampton meeting that evening where the guest speaker will be RI President-Elect Ian Riseley. There would also be no meeting on 25 April being Anzac Day.

Jeff Needham chaired the remainder of the meeting.

Director and members announcements

Jack Pyziakos reported that the next Bunnings sausage sizzle would be on Sunday 23 April. He is considering obtaining a bain-marie to keep cooked food longer.

Jack Cooper (projects) thanked all members, family and friends who had helped run this year's Gnome and Fairy Festival. Despite the high temperature in the afternoon, the event went well and the new venue proved very suitable. The financial result is yet to be finalised.

Brian Foley advised that the club website is currently down and he has been discussing this with the web provider. In the meantime, the weekly bulletin would be distributed as an email attachment,

Jack Cooper called a short gathering of conference attendees after the end of the club meeting.

Paul Taranto gave a short report on his recent trip to Canberra as District Chairman of the National Youth Science Forum for an update on program developments. A highlight was a visit to the Mount Stromlo Observatory to view research work being undertaken including identification of space junk, observation of meteorites and the moons of various planets.

The Foundation raffle raised $40. Visitor Barb McKee and Keith Carpenter were winners.

Sergeant at Arms

Sergeant Jack Pyziakos ran the sergeant's session with the usual quiz that tested our knowledge of atmospheric layers, the South Australian cricket team and "Cyclops. Storm won and Victoria beat Queensland at cricket. Jack was very happy as he is about to travel to Queensland to see his grandsons playing rugby.

Guest Speaker: Glenn Tippett "Australian Rotary Health"

PP Glenn is a member of the Rotary Club of Boronia and currently chair of the Australian Rotary Health district committee.

He commenced the presentation by outlining how Australian Rotary Health (ARH) began in 1981 at the instigation of late Rotarian Ian Scott of the Rotary Club of Mornington who thought that Rotary should address the high rate of infant deaths. Subsequently he established a charitable fund to raise $2 million for research into cot deaths. The research identified a number of causes of cot death and proposed remedial measures that greatly reduced the death rate. From a cot death rate in Victoria of around 140 per year in the mid 1980s the rate reduced to 30 or less over the next 10 years and remains low.

ARH is supported by all Rotary Districts in Australia and is now established as an incorporated company, with taxation exemption and gift deductibility status. It is governed by a board of 10 directors all of whom must be Rotarians.

Its purpose is to promote the prevention or control of diseases in human beings and to achieve this it accepts donations from public appeals, annual donations and annual subscriptions.

The current programs of ARH focus on:

1. Mental Health Research
2. All Health Areas Research
3. Indigenous Health Scholarships
4. Rural Medical and Nursing Scholarships

Since 2000 the major research focus has been on mental health and since 2012 the focus has narrowed to the mental health of young Australians with emphasis on prevention.

Grant selection is based on applications received on specific topics from universities and other research facilities. The applications are assessed by independent medical specialists and successful recipients are subject to annual review.

Glenn gave some examples of grant recipients and the specific topics they are addressing.

Glenn's responded to several members' questions.

At the conclusion, Jack Cooper presented Glenn with a cheque for $3600 to ARH from the proceeds of the Festival of Cars. Cliff Riley proposed the thanks
