Message from President Paul

Hello everyone and welcome to our first meeting post the end of daylight saving. I trust you all enjoyed/took advantage of that extra hour that came with the switch over Saturday evening/Sunday morning. I would also like to wish everyone a happy and joyous Easter. The Easter period has many connotations for people but what is common is the sense of new life, hope and new beginnings.

Speaking of new beginnings, the club was finally able to present the new football equipment to the six teams in the south eastern Reclink league last Wednesday. If you have not already seen the photos posted on Facebook by both our club and Reclink, then I encourage you to do so. It was a great experience to see the Reclink participants play a demonstration match to open the season and see how well they support each other and the support they get from Reclink staff. I would like the community committee to consider adding involvement with Reclink to our portfolio of community projects.

There was one moment on Wednesday that reminded me of how powerful Rotary's activities are. One of the Reclink staff that was organizing the event, came up to me and told me how as a young man his family had very little. He and his family came home one day and there waiting for them was a collection of goods donated by Rotary. I think it would have been the Rotary Club of Frankston based on where he lived at that time.

These donated items made a big difference to their life he said he would always be thankful to Rotary and appreciate what Rotary does in the community.

The week just passed also brought pictures of the school community at Lajamanu receiving their hygiene packs. These photos come from the school's Facebook page and so can be shared. Some are included in this week's bulletin. You can certainly see the joy and appreciation in the children's faces.

It was a great night at our fellowship dinner last Tuesday. Judging by the conversation level everyone has having a good time and also enjoyed their meals. The number of member partners that were able to come along was also a highlight. There will be more partner nights in the coming months.

With daylight saving ended, the club now moves to the schedule of having two face to face meetings at Woodlands and two Zoom meetings each four-week cycle. I know past members, honorary members and friends of the club get this bulletin. All are welcome to attend club meetings and if you intend to attend a Zoom meeting please let Trina Williams (trinawil@bigpond.net.au) know so she can send you the Zoom link.

Much of this week's message has been around the impact that Rotary can have so let me leave you with the last two paragraphs from the star fish story. For those that are not familiar with this story it is about a man who comes across a boy on the beach. The boy is picking up starfish and throwing them back into the sea. The man strikes up a conversation and asks the boy what he is doing.

"Son," the man replied, "don't you realise there are miles and miles of beach and hundreds of starfish? You can't make a difference!"

After listening politely, the boy bent down, picked up another starfish, and threw it back into the surf. Then, smiling at the man, he said, "I made a difference for that one."

Cheers Paul

Club Meeting No 2382 – 30 March – Fellowship Dinner at Bocconcino's Restaurant, Parkdale.

Attendance: 20 members, partners and guests. With plenty of pasta, pizza and other Italian delicacies, we all enjoyed a great evening of food and fellowship.

Apart from reminders about Reclink presentation day and the next Bunnings sausage sizzle, there were no other announcements or items of formal Rotary business. It was a great night of fellowship.

Arrival of Hygiene Packs at Lajamanu School, Northern Territory

Under an Australia-wide project known as End Trachoma to celebrate 100 years of Rotary in Australia, Rotary Club of Mordialloc donated 231 hygiene packs to a school at Lajamanu, Northern Territory, in a remote location some 900 kilometres north-west of Alice Springs. Club members purchased materials and assembled the packs before they were despatched late in January. The packs arrived safely several weeks ago and have been distributed to all students at the school. Teacher Victoria Cassonato, who spoke to the club about the project in January, has sent the following pictures showing excited children of various ages with their packs.
